SAILS AGAINST TURKEY.

French Fleet Will Make a Naval Demonstration.

France to Force the Execution of the Porte's Pledges.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The officials of the French foreign office confirm the report that a division of the French Mediterranean fleet, composed of three battleships and two cruisers, under the command of Admiral Caillard, has proceeded from Toulon to the Levant, to make a naval demonstration against Turkey. A foreign office official, in communicating the foregoing to the correspondent here of the Associated Press, said:

"The squadron sailed with sealed orders, and proceeds, first, to a Greek port, the island of Syra, I think, where the admiral will receive definite instructions as to carrying out his sealed orders. I am not at liberty to say what the sealed orders are, but the seizure of the customs at Smyrna would probably be a very effective way of convincing the Sultan that France's patience is exhausted, and that we have decided to enforce an immediate execution of the Turkish government's engagements.

"We, however, are very hopeful that the Sultan will not compel us to go to that extreme. Our squadron will not reach the Greek port before Sunday. The Turkish government has thus still three days' grace, and we trust in the meantime to receive complete satisfaction. We have acted very considerately towards Turkey, hoping, up to the last moment, that she would carry out her engagements, and it is only now, when we find that there is no serious indication of her doing so, that we have reluctantly resolved to bring stronger pressure to bear, in the shape of a naval demonstration. It is now two months since the French ambassador, M. Constans, left Constantinople. His departure failed to produce the desired effect. On the contrary, even the quays and tubino questions, which were settled by the Sultan's trades, remain unsatisfied."

"The internal situation in the Turkish empire deterred us, for some time, from taking drastic measures to enforce our demands, but the dignity of France could not permit the present state of affairs to be prolonged indefinitely. We sincerely hope the Sultan will fully appreciate the fact that we cannot any longer be trifled with, and relieve us of taking further steps to safeguard our interests."

The official was asked what would happen if the Turkish authorities resisted, and he replied:

"That is a very unlikely contingency; but if it occurred I suppose we shall have to bombard the port. But we do not want bloodshed, and I do not believe there will be any occasion for it to occur."

TO RESIST RE-PAYMENT

Turkey Not Responsible for Miss Stone's Capture.

Gives Reasons for Refusing to Recoup the United States.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 31.—The Turkish government is already preparing to resist the anticipated demand of the United States for repayment of the ransom necessary to secure the release of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the abducted American missionary. The Porte repudiates all responsibility for the kidnapping of Miss Stone, and maintains that the United States has no claim against Turkey, and that, therefore, the latter is justified in refusing to recoup the United States for the money expended in her rescue.

A high Turkish official informed a representative of the Associated Press today that the Turkish resistance of any claims would be based upon the following contentions:

First, that Miss Stone, although warned of the dangers of the road, persisted in traveling; second, that she did not notify the authorities of her intention, in order to obtain an escort, which precaution even the foreign consuls always take when traveling in such outlying, insecure districts of the empire, and third, that the bulgands who kidnapped Miss Stone and her companion were Bulgarians, that the coup was planned in Bulgaria and that sanctuary was found in Bulgarian territory.

SANGUINE OF THE OUTCOME.

State Department Officials Convinced that Miss Stone is Still Alive.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Referring to the opinion expressed yesterday in some of the Russian publications, to the effect that Miss Stone is probably dead, it may be stated that the State Department is convinced to the contrary, and is satisfied that with the means of communication it now has at its disposal the event of Miss Stone's death certainly would be made known to it. The department is in almost hourly communication with its agents in Turkey and Bulgaria. The latest advices received indicate that communication has been established with the brigands themselves. The department officials are sanguine of the outcome.

COUNSEL SPARRING.

Schley Rests and Sigsbee Recalled.

Rayner Objects Except It be in Rebuttal Only.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—When the Schley court of inquiry opened today Captain T. S. Borden was called as the first witness of the day and as the last witness who was to testify in Admiral Schley's behalf. It had been expected that Admiral Barker would be called, but it has latterly been decided that his testimony it given would not be material. Captain Borden is an officer in the marine corps and served on the Brooklyn during the Cuban campaign. His testimony was therefore largely corroborative of the evidence which has heretofore been given by others who were on the Brooklyn.

The remainder of the day, it was expected when the court opened, would be taken up with the hearing of witnesses called by the Navy Department for the purpose of impeaching certain parts of the testimony given in support of Admiral Schley. Included in the list for this purpose are Captain Charles D. Sigsbee of the St. Paul, Captain French E. Chadwick of Admiral Sampson's flagship, the New York; Sylvester Scovil, who was a newspaper correspondent in Cuban waters during the campaign; Major T. N. Wood, who served on board the Massachusetts as an officer of marines; Lieutenant Commander Potts and Lieutenant Grant, who also were on the Massachusetts, and Captain Joseph G. Eaton, who was on the Resolute.

Captain Sigsbee has been called for the purpose of rebutting testimony as to his message to press boat Somers N. Smith, and also a conversation on the Brooklyn in which witnesses have testified that he told Commodore Schley the Spaniards were not in Santiago. Mr. Scovil also is summoned for the purpose of rebutting testimony as to Captain Sigsbee's message to the press boat. Captain Chadwick is called to testify concerning the conference between Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley, May 19. Major Wood, Commander Potts and Lieutenant Grant are summoned to testify relative to the wardroom conversation on the Massachusetts, May 31, in which Lieutenant Sears is alleged to have spoken of the difficulty of getting Admiral Schley to embark upon the reconnoissance in the harbor at Santiago which took place on that day.

Admiral Schley will probably not return to the witness stand for the correction of his testimony for two or three days.

Captain Borden said he had been junior marine officer on the Brooklyn, and he stated that the distance of the blockading line from the entrance to the harbor at Santiago was not to exceed 4½ miles. He said he had seen picket boats at night during Commodore Schley's command there. The vessels had steamed about 4½ miles back and forth at night.

Speaking of the events of the battle of July 3, he said the lowest range given was 1,100 yards, and that this was given just before the turn, while the maximum range was 2,500 yards.

He had clearly observed the Brooklyn's loop, and speaking of this he said: "In the course of the turn I fired guns on either side, starboard and port. Smoke was very thick at that time, and during the turn I saw no vessels at all, although I had a plain view out of the stern ports. I judge I could see about 500 yards distinctly."

In reply to questions from Mr. Rayner, he said he had seen Commodore Schley three times during the battle, and that his bearing was "everything that the officers and crew could have expected."

The witness then related other incidents of the battle, saying: "The most vivid feature of the battle in my recollection occurred just after the Brooklyn had made her turn. I had relieved the gun captain in charge of the starboard six-pounder gun, and I fired at three ships inside of three minutes by a slight change in train. At that time I could see no other American ship."

On cross-examination the fact was brought out that during the turn Captain Borden had been in charge of guns in the stern of the ship and had not been able to see ahead.

Captain Borden was then excused, and as he left the stand Mr. Rayner said he would have no more witnesses to call. He said: "May it please the court, we close our case." This statement was made at 11:15 a. m.

Captain Parker then asked to have put in evidence a number of documents, including the report of the battle of July 3, which Admiral Schley made from Montevideo June 13, 1900. This report, however, has never been printed. Following is an extract from it:

"In my judgment, from an unobstructed view of the entire field of action during the combat, the Viscaya was not more than 1,000 yards distant. My flag lieutenant, standing at my elbow, reminded me that the distance between the leaders of the Spanish squadron and ourselves was approaching our tactical diameter. The stadimeter at this instant indicated 900 yards. The Brooklyn then swung to starboard to meet what proved to be the last of the attempts to ram the Brooklyn, for the Viscaya then turned square to starboard and followed the Maria Teresa until the latter's destruction. These facts admit of no contradiction, for they are based upon the independent judgment and observation of two or more persons, and upon the stadimeter in the hands of a person skilled in its use."

The report was admitted.

Lieutenant Grant was then called as the first witness for rebuttal. The witness was interrogated only concerning the events of May 31, when Commodore Schley went on board the Massachusetts for the purpose of making a reconnoissance and bombarding the Colon, especially to the conversation with Lieutenant Sears, flag lieutenant of the Brooklyn, who accompanied Commodore Schley on this occasion, in which the lieutenant was represented as urging that no obstacles be put in the way of letting the bombardment go on, because as he was represented to have said it had been difficult enough to get the commodore up to the point of undertaking it.

In reply to questions, Lieutenant Grant said he had seen Lieutenant Sears on board the Massachusetts during the bombardment or reconnoissance of May 31, and that he first saw him on the quarter deck about 11 o'clock of that day. "I had been below," continued the witness, "to get the powder division ready for action. Between 11 and 12 o'clock I went with Lieutenant Sears into the navigator's room, while he was washing his hands, previous to going in to breakfast in the wardroom, and I had a conversation with him in that room, and afterward at the wardroom table." The witness said the navigator was present part of the time during this conversation. At the conversation he thought about 10 were present.

"I want you to state what the conversation was in the stateroom of the navigator."

At this point the testimony was brought to a sudden stop by an emphatic remark by Mr. Rayner: "I object."

Addressing the court, Mr. Rayner made a vigorous speech, charging that the conversation in the wardroom of the Massachusetts was immaterial to the case.

Mr. Hanna contended that the testimony was material.

Following Mr. Hanna, Captain Lemly quoted the remark which Lieutenant Sears is alleged to have made, as follows:

"For God's sake, don't discourage him (meaning Commodore Schley). It is all that we have been able to do to work him up to this."

Captain Parker followed with a brief speech in support of Mr. Rayner's contention, and the court then retired to consider the point raised. The members of the court were in consultation 15 minutes, and when they returned Admiral Dewey announced the court's decision as follows:

"The objection as made is sustained by the court."

The witness was then excused and Captain Sigsbee was recalled. When he had taken his seat Mr. Hanna stated that the witness had been called for the purpose of proving such facts as he might be possessed of that the court or counsel might want to elicit from him.

This statement brought Mr. Rayner to his feet with the question "You are calling Captain Sigsbee in rebuttal, of course?"

Captain Lemly said: "I don't call it rebuttal. We called Captain Sigsbee because he wanted to testify."

Apparently Mr. Rayner was surprised. He said: "Have we the right, after we have closed the case, to recall witnesses except in rebuttal? This would lead to an interminable case."

Captain Lemly: "Counsel is wrong when he says I closed the case. I did not close it. I simply said 'We rest here,' and I propose to call further witnesses hereafter."

The controversy between counsel continued for some time. Mr. Hanna said he had a conversation with Mr. Rayner in which the latter had promised to be liberal in rebutting testimony. Replying, Mr. Rayner said that his promise had only applied to rebutting testimony proper.

Mr. Hanna then took up the question of the treatment of the case. He took especial exception to the characterization of his and Captain Lemly's conduct of the case as a "prosecution." On this point he said:

"As to the use of the language which has been employed here, that this is very like a prosecution, I cannot allow the record to stand in that shape without saying a word or two on that point. If this case has in any manner approached that of a prosecution, it has been due to the action of the applicant and his counsel. Out of generous consideration to the applicant we have allowed every technical rule of the law to be evoked in his interest. That is generosity; that is not prosecution. We do not desire in our proceedings here, when the applicant is represented by able and skilled counsel, to have the stigma of a prosecution placed upon the judge advocate and his associate. It is an outrageous and unwarranted use of the word."

Replying, Mr. Rayner said he had never spoken of the inquiry as a prosecution, but said he had referred to it as a "trial" and had so considered it. He also refused to concede that any special generosity had been displayed in the case.

Captain Parker called the attention of the court to the naval regulations for 1900, in which the word "prosecution" is used in connection with courts of inquiry.

The court then, at 12:50 p. m., took a recess until 2 o'clock, without deciding the point raised.

When the court reconvened after the recess Admiral Dewey announced the decision of the court on the question of rebutting testimony, holding that witnesses may be called at any time, or recalled for the purpose of making corrections of former testimony or additions in the nature of corrections. They cannot, however, reiterate former evidence.

DESPITE LIPTON'S DENIAL.

Tams, Lemoine & Crane of New York Say the Shamrock is for Sale.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Despite the denial of Sir Thomas Lipton that the Shamrock II was for sale, Tams, Lemoine & Crane, yacht brokers, said today that if a buyer offered money enough the famous racer would be sold. Mr. Lemoine, speaking for the firm, said:

"Mr. Tams sailed for England yesterday, but you may say for me that we have the yacht for sale, and will sell her in five minutes if any one comes along with the money. The Shamrock II was given in our charge for the purpose of selling her. There must be some mistake in this cable, or it may be that Sir Thomas, believing he will not find a purchaser, does not wish it advertised that she is for sale."

BETWEEN NOW AND CHRISTMAS.

Every Available Infantryman at Aldershot to be Sent to South Africa.

ALDERSHOT, England, Oct. 31.—It is understood that, as a result of the conclusion arrived at by the cabinet Monday, every available effective infantryman here will be sent to the front in South Africa between now and Christmas. The departure of the cavalry brigade from Aldershot will leave only a single regiment of regular cavalry in the United Kingdom.

Prince Arthur of Connaught, who is a second lieutenant in the Seventh (Queens' Own) hussars, goes with his regiment to South Africa.

ANOTHER OPERATION.

Three Already Performed on King Edward's Throat.

The Medical Press and Circular Gives Alarming Details.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. The London correspondent of the Tribune cables the following concerning the health of King Edward: With a full sense of its responsibility in the matter, the Medical Press and Circular prints some alarming details on the subject of the King's health. It is stated that papillomatous growths have on three occasions been removed from the King's left vocal chord, and that an immediate operation of another nature has since been rendered necessary.

"Under the circumstances," says the Medical Press, "it seems right and proper that the natural anxiety should be at once met with a clear announcement as to the truth or otherwise of these distressing reports."

HAS UNDERGONE NO OPERATION.

The Lancet Announces that King Edward is in Good Health.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Lancet today says it has official authority to announce that recent rumors regarding the health of King Edward are entirely without truth or foundation, and that he is in good health and has undergone no operation whatever.

FOR THE CAPTURE OF TWO CHILDREN.

Morocco Pays Spain $1,600 Indemnity and $30,000 to the Parents.

TANGIER, Oct. 31.—The Moorish government has paid $5000 for the parents, and $1,600 indemnity, as a result of the capture by Kabyle tribesmen, of a Spanish boy and girl, last May, at Arzilla, on the Atlantic coast of Morocco.

BUSINESS AT A STANDSTILL.

British Steamer Darien Arrives at Kingston From Colon.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 31.—British steamer Darien, from Liverpool for South American ports, arrived here today from Colon, Columbia. She brought reports that business continues at a standstill at Colon.

Merchants here are arranging a meeting, to take place this week, for the purpose of requesting the Imperial government to take steps to have a large number of Boers permanently settled on the island of Jamaica.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS RESUMED.

Papal Nuncio to be Appointed by the Vatican to The Hague.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—According to the Brussels correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times, diplomatic relations between Holland and the Vatican, which were interrupted by the exclusion of the representative of the Pope from The Hague peace conference, are about to be resumed by the appointment of a new papal nuncio at The Hague.

FOR ELECTRIC TRACTION.

St. Petersburg Paper Asks the City Not to Reject the American Proposal.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 18.—The Novosti says the representatives of a great American syndicate have just left St. Petersburg, for the purpose of buying or leasing all available land along the Siberian railroad. The syndicate is provided with more than 15,000,000 roubles. Nothing is known in American circles about such an undertaking.

The Bourse Gazette devotes two columns to an analysis of Murray A. Verner's project to invest $50,000,000 in electric traction in St. Petersburg. It calls upon the municipal council to weigh carefully what is offered against what is asked, and not to reject the American proposition without decisive reasons. The citizens demand improved service, and experience with municipal operation has not encouraged them to extract it from the present city government.

The Russian government has, according to the Trans-Caucasus correspondent of the Novoye Vremya, decided what shall be done with the 10,000 Armenian fugitives who have been gathering in the Trans-Caucasian districts of Russia since 1894. Those who desire may return to Turkey at their own expense. Those electing to remain may seek admission into a peasant community. If some remain whom the communities refuse to admit they must apply for admission into a local organization of "Meslchanines," ordinary, unprivileged subjects. By 1903 all must be Russian subjects, or leave the empire.

This Morning's News.

INCOMPLETE AND UNSATISFACTORY.

Schley's Answers to the Court's Inquiries Disappointing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.- The long examination of Rear Admiral Schley in the court of inquiry was concluded this afternoon. The original had been on the witness stand nearly two days, during which time he was subjected to a thorough and searching examination regarding the movements of the flying squadron and his acts as commander in the Spanish war. His testimony has fully covered the events of the Cuban campaign in which he figured, especially those events in relation to which he was the basis of such severe criticism.

Although the examination, up to the last part of the session today, Admiral Schley has certainly lost what may be called a good deal of ground in his answers to the questions submitted by the court just before he left the stand was quite disappointing to his friends.

These questions, like all those which have been asked by the court during the whole inquiry, were directly to the point of the matters under investigation. They related chiefly to the attempted and retrograde movements, and it was the most difficult thing for Schley to explain of all his acts during the Santiago campaign.

The answers of the admiral to the questions of the court were rather indefinite. He did not respond with the positive frankness that has usually characterized his statements, and appeared somewhat ill at ease as the very important questions were read to him.

Beside the retrograde movement, the court interrogated Admiral Schley very closely concerning the bombardment of Santiago and the passage of the squadron from Cienfuegos to Santiago. It was evident from the nature of the questions that the court did not consider the matters to which they were related as yet clearly explained, and it was only by inference that the answers of Admiral Schley did not throw much light upon the points involved.

The end of the inquiry is in sight, only a few more witnesses remaining to be examined. Besides the two witnesses for and of Admiral Schley, the judge advocate will have 10 or 15 others whose testimony is relied upon by the prosecution. It is expected that all the evidence will have been submitted by Friday of next week, when there will probably be an adjournment until next Tuesday in order to give counsel an opportunity to prepare their arguments.

WILL USE FORCE.

French Claims Against Turkey to be Vigorously Pushed.

PARIS, Oct. 30.- The entire French Mediterranean squadron, left yesterday afternoon, says the Turkish correspondent of the Figaro. "With one division of the 8 ships of Hyeres, another composed of three battleships and two cruisers under the command of Admiral Caillard, proceeded to the Levant. Two more cruisers will be added to the squadron. Caillard's orders are that, in complete satisfaction is not immediately given by the Ottoman government to the claims of France, he shall seize the custom house of the port of his squadron. It is believed that the action will take place at Mytilene or Smyrna. The Levantine coast has the advantage of Dardanelles and the gulf of Smyrna."

Several morning papers read in the Premier's Toulon address. Remarks to the effect were current in Paris, but the cabinet officers professed to know nothing about the matter.

unanimously in favor of the proposition to strike. The fact, however, that only a small percentage of the membership of the unions come out to the meetings would seem to indicate that the matter of a 10 per cent advance was not of such deep and lasting interest to the operatives as the public had been led to believe. It is true that the weavers, carders and slashers are striking, and each anxious to make an effort to enforce the request for an advance, as was indicated by their votes, and by the way in which the members of these unions expressed themselves, but all effort without the support of the latest four unions would probably result in failure, and it is not considered likely that it will be made.

PADEREWSKI PRIZE AWARDS.

Result of Competitive Work by American Composers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.- The judges in the competition for prizes from the fund established by Ignace J. Paderewski, have announced their decision today. There were three prizes of $500 each, for the best work for orchestra, the best piece for chorus and orchestra, with or without solos, and the best piece of chamber music for any combination of instruments. The competition was restricted to composers born in the United States. Following are the awards:

Work for orchestra, to Henry K. Hadley, musical director of the Cathedral School of St. Paul, Garden City, Long Island, for his symphony, "The Four Seasons."

Choral work, Horatio W. Parker, Battell professor of the theory of music at Yale University, for "A Star Song," cantata for solo, chorus and orchestra.

Chamber music competition, Arthur Bird, for a serenade for wind instruments. Mr. Bird, though a native of the United States, is now a resident of Berlin.

The trustees of the fund are Henry L. Higginson and William F. Bigelow of Boston. The judges appointed by Paderewski were Wilhelm Gericke, Carl Zerrahn, B. J. Lang, and W. F. Apthorp of Boston; H. E. Krehbiel, H. T. Finck, J. G. Huneker and W. J. Henderson of New York, and S. S. Sanford of New Haven. Sixty-eight compositions were entered.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

The firing of 100 guns from the State House grounds in Providence yesterday afternoon announced the beginning of the centennial anniversary observances of the historical Providence Marine Corps of Artillery. The gathering at the old armory on Benefit street included ex-Governors Taft, Lippitt and Dyer, Executive Secretary Howland representing Governor Gregory, the latter being ill, and officers of the militia. The orator of the day was Major George R. Peck, a veteran member. A banquet, with laudatory speeches, occurred in the evening.

A well-dressed individual was found very much under the influence of liquor Tuesday in the "Hungry" district of Pawtucket. He was arrested and when searched, among other articles brought to light, were two crisp gold certificates of $100 each. The prisoner said that he was a Providence citizen temporarily, but he turned out to be an ex-convicted robber, on the police records. He gave his name to the Pawtucket officers as Richard Clayton, but has many aliases, also being known to the police of many cities as Richard Mack. His real name is said by Captain Parker of the detective bureau to be John Morrison, and he is released by the police as a "good crook," which means that he is of some note in his particular line of work.

Charles V. N. Radcliffe, the J. F. Mulvey Plumbing Company and the Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Company, all of Woonsocket, filed in the United States district court, Tuesday, a creditor's petition, asking that the Empire Rubber Shoe Company of that city be declared bankrupt. According to the petition the claims of the three petitioning creditors are as follows: Charles V. N. Radcliffe, $500 for money borrowed; the J. F. Mulvey Company, $125.25 for goods sold and delivered, and labor performed, and the Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Company, $222.25 for electric lighting.

Frank S. Beardsley of Bristol has confessed to making a long list of burglaries in that vicinity, and to robbing a large assortment of articles. Those who have been his victims are Frank T. Benjamin, a hardware store of Bristol; Silas S. Bentley, a hardware dealer of Central Falls; the Pawtucket Gas Company, the Pawtucket Boat Club and Calder's Cove of Warren, and the articles taken include guns, ammunition, clocks, glasses, fold glasses, 88 tools, lawnmowers and bicycles. Beardsley made the confession after he had been arraigned before special Justice Bennett in Bristol on two charges of breaking and entering the store of Frank T. Benjamin, October 9 and 19, and taking four guns and a quantity of ammunition. He pleaded guilty on both counts and was bound over in $2,000. The police are trying to connect Beardsley with the murder of Special Officer Monroe in April at Benjamin's hardware store. Beardsley confesses to having robbed the store, but not on the night Monroe was killed. Five breaks have been made into Bentley's store.

"Sec. 3. The boards of aldermen and common councils of the several cities shall in joint convention, in the month of July in the year nineteen hundred and three and in the month of July in every fifth year thereafter, elect five commissioners who shall hold office for five years from the first Monday in the month of August next following their election: Provided, that the commissioners now in office shall continue to hold office from the date of their election until the first Monday in August in said year nineteen hundred and three; and all said commissioners shall have and exercise all the powers and duties conferred upon boards of commissioners and town councils by the provisions of this chapter: Provided, further, that in the city of Central Falls but three commissioners shall be elected. Said commissioners shall receive such compensation, to be paid by the several cities, as the city councils of said cities shall determine. And said boards of aldermen and common councils in joint convention, in case of vacancy in said boards of commissioners by death, resignation or otherwise, shall have power to fill said vacancy by appointment of a commissioner to serve during the residue of the unexpired term caused by such vacancy. The town councils of the several towns may in the month of November, after the fifteenth day thereof, in any year elect three commissioners to serve for the term of one year and until others are elected and qualified in their stead. Such commissioners shall receive such compensation as the town councils may determine, not exceeding, however, five dollars for every day actually employed, to be paid by said town. Vacancies shall be filled by the town council. The commissioners elected or appointed under the provisions of this section shall have and exercise all the powers and duties conferred upon town councils by the provisions of this chapter. The boards of commissioners may elect one of their number as clerk, who shall keep and have custody of all the records of said board. Copies of the records of the boards of commissioners or of any town council, duly certified by the respective clerks thereof, shall be received as evidence of any of the proceedings of the boards; and the certificates of said clerks that it does not appear by such records that a person named in said certificates held a license under this chapter shall be evidence of the fact therein contained. The commissioners shall annually, on or before the first day of February, make report to the general assembly, which said report shall give the number of licenses granted by the commissioners, with the names of the persons licensed, and the amount of money received therefor. The boards of aldermen and common councils, in joint convention, of the several cities, and town councils of the several towns, may at any time, and for cause, remove any of the commissioners. Members of town and city councils shall be ineligible for election as such commissioners."

Sec. 13. Section 64 of Chapter 102 of the General Laws is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Sec. 64. The treasurer of every town and city shall on the tenth day of June in the year 1901 and on the tenth days of January and July in the year 1902, and in each year thereafter, make returns to the general treasurer of all moneys coming to his hands belonging to the state, received under the provisions of this chapter, which return shall embrace the names of the persons from whom received and the amount received from each person."

Sec. 14. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AFTER TWO THOUSAND YEARS.

Whole Villages Buried by Sand Discovered in Chinese Turkestan.

Dr. A. M. Stein, who was recently in London, is quoted in some of the papers there on his remarkable finds in Chinese Turkestan, where he commanded an exploring expedition. These finds, he declares, reveal in a striking manner and for the first time the daily life and culture of localities that for nearly 2,000 years have been buried in sand and unknown. Dr. Stein said:

"A full investigation of the sculpture, fresco painting, objects of industrial art and seals, etc., which were dug out of the temples and dwelling houses of sand-buried sites will help us to resuscitate the civilization of a region which has played an important part in history as the link between ancient China, India and the classical west. Now for the first time have been brought to light some aspects of the every-day life, the home industries and arts of the inhabitants of the villages and settlements of Chinese Turkestan which were abandoned in the early centuries after the beginning of the Christian era, and have since been buried under moving sand dunes.

"As showing the extent to which the desert has advanced, I may say that some of the settlements I excavated are situated fully 100 miles beyond the edge of the present cultivated area. The great waterless desert is naturally regarded with much superstition by the people who live in the scanty settlements along the desert edge, and the difficulty of carrying sufficient supplies and water has luckily kept the native 'treasure seekers' from visiting and exploiting the more distant and also more ancient ruined sites which have now been systematically explored for the first time under the auspices of the Indian government.

"No doubt can be entertained," continued the doctor, "that the inhabitants of these places were in possession of a culture mainly derived from India, and that they were Buddhists. My excavations go to prove that their culture was highly advanced, and that the art influences of Greece and Rome were felt even at that great distance from the centres of classical culture. Khotan is, I should say, about half way between Pekin and western Europe.

"Possibly the most striking excavations I made were at a site in the heart of the desert north of Niya, where one settlement was exposed, covering with its scattered dwellings and shrines an area of about six miles by four. Until shifting began all that was visible were weird-looking rows of bleached timber posts projecting in various places like the framework of a wrecked ship from between the sand dunes. Even with all the interesting work on hand the utter desolation of the place made itself felt most keenly during a prolonged stay, and the uncanny surroundings specially affected my people.

"Of special interest were the refuse heaps which we unearthed near some ruined houses, once apparently tenanted by village officials—kinds of 'waste-paper' baskets, containing hundreds of documents, beautifully written on wooden tablets and carefully tied and sealed. Owing to the preservative nature of the sand many of these were in splendid condition—the ink as black and the seals and string as perfect as if they were only a few weeks old. As these documents are in a known Indian script, their decipherment can be expected to reveal in a fascinating manner many of the details of the ancient village life. But it will be a task requiring years of close study, as in India itself the materials available of this early script have so far been very scanty.

"At sites less ancient we also found paper documents in Sanskrit, Chinese, and also Tibetan manuscripts. In none of the excavations did I find any unknown characters. Round most of the sand-buried houses were brought to light carefully planned little gardens, with avenues of trees, fenced lanes, orchards and so forth. It was truly astonishing on clearing away the sand to find under the shrivelled hedges heaps of dried leaves, just as they had fallen in ages gone by. The gardens were much the same in character as those seen to be found in Turkestan today. The trees were mostly poplars and jujub, mulberry and apricot trees. There is no evidence that these places were abandoned owing to any sudden catastrophe, but their gradual desertion was evidently due to the impossibility of continued irrigation, caused by advance of the sand.

"While articles of real value were, therefore, removed by their possessors, we found in the dwelling places many household implements, of small value, such as pitchforks, mouse traps, boots, chairs, shoemakers' lasts, etc. In the ruined temples we found a sort of unintentional exhibition of the fabrics of these remote ages—for in front of some of the idols were heaps of torn shreds of elaborately worked silks and other fabrics, which had been deposited as votive offerings. In one temple it was curious to note an instance of where a pilgrim, anxious apparently to propitiate as many deities as possible, had torn into portions a Tibetan manuscript, which he had divided among the various idols. These fragments are now once more united under glass panes.

"Many colossal statues in stucco were unearthed from the monasteries and temples. One of the latter contained in its cloisters over 100 statues, all over life size. While as many as possible of these were cleared for the purpose of taking photographs, only a few could be rescued, as when the protecting sand was removed the great stuccoes threatened to collapse, owing to their inner wooden work having rotted away. However, interesting portions of them were successfully brought away. As showing how the customs of today were in vogue in the past, it may be noted that my laborers at once recognized an ice-pit, which was dug out, by dry leaves, which were apparently used then, as now, to protect the ice from the terrible summer heat."

TRAINING THE CHILD.

Rev. Mary T. Whitney, president of the New England Moral Education Society, contends that while much is said of motherhood, not half enough is said of fatherhood. In speaking of the qualities that inspire respect, she says: "Everybody respects power and has a contempt for weakness. So, if we are to be honored by our children we must be strong, and the stronger we are the more honor we shall get—and every kind of strength counts. Think what it is for children as they grow older to keep finding that their parents have misrepresented things to them, and that the world and life are quite different from what they have been led to believe. Sam Jones tells about a man with a cotton string for a backbone. Morally, children have such backbones as that, and if their parents haven't any good, strong spinal columns for them to lean up against there is little hope of their going right. The more children can be made to respect themselves, the more respect they will have for others. We must do our duty by them all along, that in the years to come there will be that sweet and beautiful companionship which is founded upon devoted love and unbounded respect."

WILCOX FOR GOVERNOR OF HAWAII.

A special despatch to the Boston Herald from Honolulu says:

"At a meeting of the executive committee of the Home Rule party Robert W. Wilcox, the present delegate to Congress, was made the unanimous choice of the party as the next governor of Hawaii. There were 52 out of the 65 members of the committee present, and although other names were canvassed none but that of Wilcox was received with favor. Resolutions were adopted to be forwarded to President Roosevelt. The Home Rulers favor F. W. Beckley as delegate to Congress, in place of Wilcox.

"The Home Rulers comprise all the natives and many of the half-breeds. Numerically they easily outnumber all other parties combined, and if they stand together they can elect any one they nominate. Wilcox is their ideal, and they desire to have the President remove Dole and appoint Wilcox governor."

Robert W. Wilcox is a son of Mr. William S. Wilcox, long a resident and well known in this city.

Add a pinch of salt. Rub this paste through a sieve. Have ready a pint of boiled custard and add to the chestnut paste. Add a pint of blanched, chopped almonds, two cupfuls of candied fruits chopped fine and a teaspoonful of vanilla extract, or a glass of maraschino. Place in the freezer and work well. LINES TO A BOA.

[New York.]

That which her slender neck goes 'round
Creates in me a wish profound
That I might to those regions sent
And dare what dares that chiffon boa.

'Tis but a thing of frills and lace,
Yet into it, oh me! what grace,
To clasp her and caress her cheek,
Play with her dimples hide-and-seek.

Dear lady, sure you've never guessed
What envy lurks in each man's breast?
For what you grant these frills—no more—
I'd willingly become a bore!

A THIEF.

[New York Commercial Advertiser.]

She filched the red from the roses,
Her sweet, young lips to adorn;
She stole from the sea her sea-blue eyes,
Her smile from the radiant dawn.

She pilfered the gold from the sunset,
Her curly locks to bedeck;
She thieved from the lark her silver song,
Took the lily's snow for her neck.

And when she had plundered the flowers,
The sun, the lark and the sea,
This charming, audacious young robber
Took captive my heart from me.

Doctor—Yes, indeed! He was able to pay his bill yesterday, and that's a marked improvement as compared to the bulk of my patients.—[Richmond Dispatch.

THE ASSEMBLY AND THE MAYORALTY.

In connection with the election next week there are so many diverse interests involved, and so many conflicting complications involved as to make the precise situation not from clear, especially to those who view the campaign as spectators from without rather than from the position of the workers on the inside. It requires no very deep political insight, however, to discern that in the coming battle of the polls the main line of attack and defense will be the legislative ticket. There may indeed be fences and flank movements elsewhere, and even pretty lively firing all over the field of action; but where the forces of the rival candidates for the Assembly rally round their respective leaders the conflict will be fiercest and most desperate.

With the exception of the police commission, as their avowed ultimate object, and with the well-sounding if ill-fitting shibboleth of "Home rule" as their campaign cry, the Democrats have thrown down the gage of battle and will force the fighting, compelling the Republicans to show a stiff fence to accept the issue and stand by their colors. It is a gallant charge which, with waving banners and pealing shouts of defiance, the Democrats are making against the intrenchments of the foe, while the Republicans, behind the breastworks, are lying low or contenting themselves with a few desultory musketry. What sort of demonstrations they will be able to make when the charging enemy approaches close enough to "show the whites of their eyes" and they open fire with their ball-cartridges, like the Rifles of old, we shall be better able to tell when the sun goes down on Wednesday night over the bloody field of fray.

Democratic victory on the selectmen ticket the Democrats have apparently assured to their forces, albeit their respective standards, as if loth to yield, are clinging to certain of their offensive posts at other points along the lines. With regard to the mayoralty, for example, it has seemed, and within a few days past it seems, as though there were two candidates in the field for Democratic nomination, indicating a disposition to be "doubly sure" by deciding. It is an open secret that the prime motivation for a second candidate, the old warhorse mentioned, who is urged to the front, failing to satisfy the scent of battle, he is bound to rush into the breach. It is the present condition was precisely the same in regard to the home of the late John Allen, who repeated reminds, "Had I stood aside" as he himself said, to accept the nomination.

Since the campaign is at the critical point, however, the attention is of course, not by the open air speakers to the principal question, and an added element of interest and enthusiasm is thus given to the close of the election. But the speakers do not have the same [illegible] the Republicans seem to be [illegible] the contention is, if [illegible] only [illegible] sportsmanship. The people [illegible] the Democrats have [illegible] the Republicans [illegible] the Democratic Assembly ticket, "on a platform of home rule" on a platform of home rule. Where [illegible] the people who [illegible] Democrats [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Democratic

NO MORE SMALL POX.

Dent and Boss Cases Now Traced to Captain Evans.

No new cases of small pox have been reported today; in fact, none for the last 48 hours. All the patients at the contagious hospital are doing well, and there is a well grounded feeling that the worst of the scare is over. It is now nearly three weeks since the first case was discovered and there is little to fear from this source of contagion. It is possible that new cases may develop from the original case and from the others that were due to it, and the board of health has under surveillance a number of persons who are known to have been in contact with those having the disease, and will watch carefully for the first signs of small pox. While the situation today is very encouraging, it does not mean that there will be no more cases, but the board has the matter well in hand and can be counted upon to do all that is possible to prevent further spread.

The board of health has traced the source of the contagion in the case of the Dent girl and the Boss boy to the original case of Captain Evans, and is satisfied that they were not due to a distinct source of infection. It has been shown that the children played with Harry Evans, a son of Captain Evans, in the immediate vicinity of the house on Appleby street where the disease originated in Newport, and it is presumed that both were in the house while Captain Evans was ill. Mrs. Evans is positive that a girl was in the room with the sick man on the Thursday before he was taken to the hospital, and it is probable that both the children were in the house and were thus infected with the disease.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Champlin have returned from a visit to New York.

The engine and dynamo for the electric plant on the Beaver Tail will arrive next week.

Mr. C. E. Weeden is confined to his house by illness.

The Misses Weeden have returned from a visit to Providence and Boston.

On account of the breakdown on the City of Newport last night several people from this place, who were returning from Providence, missed the last boat, and they were obliged to spend the night in Newport. The Beaver Tail waited 25 minutes for the arrival of the Providence boat.

Messrs. W. H. Hammett and Edwin Hedrick were fishing at the Dumplings today.

Mr. S. W. Woodward and family of Washington will spend the winter in this city.

Tuesday a detachment from Fort Adams went to Fort Greble for target practice, during which Private King of Fr. One Hundred and Tenth Company was struck with a bullet and severely injured. The man was acting as marker, and one of the bullets fell short and, striking the ground, encountered a stone and glanced, striking the man in the centre of the forehead, fracturing but not penetrating the skull. He was removed to the hospital at Fort Adams, and today the injured man was reported as doing as well as could be expected.

THE NORTH ATLANTIC'S WINTER CRUISE.

In pursuance of orders issued by the Navy Department the vessels of the North Atlantic squadron will assemble at Hampton Roads about the end of November and prepare for the usual winter cruise in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea. It is expected that this cruise will last about six months, so that the vessels will not return to the waters of the United States before the middle of May. The fleet will consist of the ship Kearsarge, battleships Massachusetts, Indiana, Illinois and Alabama, and one or two cruisers. A large torpedo boat flotilla is to be organized for the winter cruise in the West Indies during the winter, and it is probable that the two fleets will have joint exercises.

When the North Atlantic fleet leaves Hampton Roads early in December it is probable that it will make a stop of a week or ten days in the vicinity of Charleston, S. C., and that several of the vessels will enter the harbor and participate in the exposition exercises.

NAVAL NOTES.

The President has appointed Clarence A. Carr and John R. Blish to be lieutenant commanders; Leland P. James and John L. Sticht to be lieutenants and Owen Hill and Charles Hierlihi to be ensigns.

The costly silver service purchased by the people of Illinois for the new battleship named after their state will be formally presented next Thursday at Old Point Comfort, and President Roosevelt and cabinet, a large party of people from Chicago and other Illinois cities and a party of Illinois residents in Washington will be present to witness the event and to inspect the ship.

As a result of sessions of the naval general board and the naval board of construction an identical program of naval construction will probably be submitted to Secretary Long. This program, it seems certain, will provide for four battleships and four armored cruisers, as well as large and small gunboats, the latter for service in the Philippine islands. The general board will recommend the building of about a dozen picket boats of not more than 800 tons displacement and high speed. The need of such boats was demonstrated in the operations on the Cuban coast during the Spanish war.

SALE OF HAZARD ESTATE AUTHORIZED.

In the appellate division of the supreme court in Providence, yesterday, in the case of Isaac Hazard, Trustee, vs. Harriet C. Hazard, a petition of the plaintiff for authority to sell real estate in this city was heard and a decree entered, stating that the sale of the land described in the bill of complaint is deemed expedient. Isaac Hazard, in his capacity as trustee under the will of John Alfred Hazard, deceased, is authorized to sell the real estate described, and is ordered to give bonds in the sum of $25,000.

POLITICALLY QUIET.

Democrats Likely to Increase Their Representation in the House.

[Providence correspondence of the News.]

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 30.—The state campaign is one of the dullest known in a long time. The Democrats are doing a little in the way of campaign speech-making in this part of the state, but are having but small audiences and no enthusiasm to encourage them. The people seem to feel that there are no special issues involved in the state election which they do not thoroughly understand already. The Republicans are doing nothing except the usual work quietly among the supporters of the party, and feel no necessity for special activity in view of the certainty of victory for their party nominees at the election next week. The usual ante-election love feast of the faithful will be held in this city Saturday and then the campaign will end, except for the work that is always to be done on voting day.

There is a probability that the Democrats will increase their representation in the next house of representatives, as that party is making especially strenuous efforts to that end in the cities of the state. There are particularly lively and interesting battles in progress in this city, Woonsocket, Newport and some of the towns. The number of towns where no Democratic candidates for the Assembly were nominated is so large, however, that there is no question that the next legislature will be controlled by the Republicans by a good working majority.

The municipal campaigns are interesting in most cases. Here in Providence, however, there is less excitement than usual and every reason to believe that Mayor Granger will be re-elected, for the Republicans are not making anything like the fight for their candidate, Mr. Vincent, that the Republican nominee last year, Mr. Goff, did.

Matters have been quiet and peaceful in Pawtucket since the nominations were made, but the election promises to be close and both parties are professing confidence of winning the mayoralty. The chances are believed by conservative citizens, however, to favor Mayor Fitzgerald rather than the Republican nominee, Mr. Kenyon.

The election seems to be closer in Woonsocket than it has been in some recent years, and while many believe that Mayor Greene will win again there are not a few who claim that Mr. Gaulin, the Republican nominee, will defeat the present chief executive of the city. Every one who judges without the enthusiasm of party preference acknowledges that the vote will be close.

Central Falls has two new and excellent candidates for the mayoralty in Mr. Fales, nominated by the Republicans, and Mr. Gorman, the nominee of the Democrats, and the choice outside of party preference is an even one. While the vote will be close there is a strong belief that Mr. Fales will be the successful candidate.

All eyes are turned toward Newport and the battle that is being waged there over the police commission issue, though no one conversant with the affairs of the Republican party in the state has any belief that the legislature will repeal the police commission act for that city, whatever the result of the election there may be.

In all the cities there are the usual lively ward contests for members of the city council, and in many cases these are receiving more attention and causing more interest than any other issue involved in the election.

—A Hallowe'en party was given in honor of Miss Annie Easton at her residence on Spring street last evening. Musical selections were rendered by Misses Easton and Smith. Previous to the dancing a collation was served and it was a late hour when the guests returned to their homes.

For the last two years members of the Baptist Church of Saco, Me., have been annoyed by a sound in the church building. While it was not especially troublesome, it was annoying from the fact that it was constant and could not be located. The sexton hunted everywhere for it, but without success until recently. In making a more thorough search than usual he found tucked away in a gable end a swarm of bees and about 50 pounds of honey.

The three propositions upon which the taxpayers will vote are as follows:

New High School.

Shall the City Council be authorized to purchase a site, and erect thereon and equip, a new high school building of brick or stone, the same to be located near the Townsend Industrial School building, at an expense not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars, and to issue 30-year bonds of the city for not exceeding said amount, to provide funds for the purpose?

Easton's Beach Buildings.

Shall the City Council of the city of Newport be authorized to purchase from the Easton's Beach Company the buildings on Easton's Beach now owned by the said Easton's Beach Company, at an expense not exceeding eighteen thousand dollars?

Coggeshall avenue.

Shall the City Council be authorized to expend fifteen thousand dollars for the widening, straightening, curbing and grading of a portion of Coggeshall avenue?

A GOVERNMENT CONSCIENCE FUND.

The Postoffice Department has a "conscience fund" of its own. Not at all unusual is it for people to use a poorly cancelled stamp, and then to regret cheating the government out of two cents. In order to secure peace of mind the two-cent culprit will send a good stamp to the department with an anonymous explanation. This stamp is turned over to Mr. Evelyn Hall of the files and mails division, who pastes it on a large card and draws a couple of pen marks through it. It would be just as effective for the repentant to cancel the stamp himself, since anyone who desires to present the government with two cents has only to tear up a two-cent stamp. The communications which accompany the contributions to the "conscience fund" are rarely signed; it is not publicity, but formality in repentance, which is desired. Hardly a day passes without a contribution of this sort. The sums vary all the way from one cent to $5,000.

CALL A HALT.

[New York Tribune.]

An impetuous and headstrong American is said to have given orders for the construction of an automobile capable of a speed of 70 miles an hour. Why does he not aim at the mark of 100 miles in 60 minutes while he is about it? The development of the swiftest possible locomotive engines to run on railroad tracks with steam or electricity furnishing power is to be encouraged. Tremendous velocity in railway trains may often be useful. But is it time to cry a halt to the men who try to reach or surpass a rate of a mile a minute on the public roads.

GREEN GOODS MEN.

John Wilkie, chief of the secret service, is in possession of the names and addresses of most of the men who operate the green goods swindle. They are as well known as members of Congress; they send out their literature as regularly and almost as openly as publishing houses, and they work the different fields as diligently as book agents. The reason they are not more frequently arrested is said to be the inability to get evidence sufficient for conviction. The victim of their wiles, who buys a cobble-stone and a lot of old paper, locked up in a valise, after he has been examining some genuine money which they exhibit, but never sell, cannot turn against them without incriminating himself, and even if absolved by the courts in becoming "state's evidence," he would be laughed at by his friends for the rest of his life. The use of the mails, moreover, is a thing which the postal authorities and not the secret service deal with, and they have found it almost impossible to prevent the mailing of green goods circulars. Only a small percentage of the cases where the fraud is worked ever come to light. This business yields steady and reliable profits, although "written up" and otherwise exposed to a seeming sufficiency.

NAVIGATION SUSPENDED.

Dense Fog Hung Over New York Harbor for Several Hours.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A dense fog, impenetrable to the eye, hung over New York harbor today, and at its greatest density navigation was almost suspended. Nearly every ferry line gave up schedules, and tried to move boats only to and fro across the rivers. White Star liner Majestic from Liverpool, which arrived last night, remained at anchor until she could safely feel her way in. The weather was very thick outside, and the observers made out no arriving vessels for several hours. Sirens, bells and whistles were kept going all over the harbor until the sun and clearness came.

All traffic through Hell Gate was suspended. The Sound steamers were unable to proceed as far as that, and were all laid up at College Point and places in the vicinity. At 11 o'clock the Sound boats were expected to come down the river, as the fog had lifted almost wholly by that hour.

SHIPS SEEKING SHELTER.

Fierce Easterly Gale Blowing Over the English Channel.

DOVER, Oct. 31.—A fierce easterly gale has been blowing today over the whole Channel. The Channel steamers were obliged to abandon attempts to enter the port of Folkestone, owing to the tremendous seas which were running. A number of minor wrecks have been reported, and several vessels have sunk at their moorings. The wind gauge registered 60 miles an hour. The tide is rising and vessels of all kinds are seeking shelter from the storm. Great numbers of carcasses of animals are washing ashore in the vicinity of Deal, indicating that a shipping disaster has occurred near there.

ENCOUNTERS THE EASTERLY GALE

The Ophir, With the Duke and Duchess of York, Proceeds up the Channel.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Royal yacht Ophir, with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on board, and the escorting warships, encountered the full force of the severe easterly gale blowing today over the Channel and were obliged to abandon their intention to put into Portland Roads, which was a great disappointment to the crowds lining the coast. The flotilla proceeded up the Channel.

THE STRICTEST IN AMERICA.

Pure Food Law in New Jersey to Go Into Effect Tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—What is said to be the strictest pure food law in the United States will go into effect in New Jersey tomorrow. Its enforcement has been entrusted to the New Jersey state board of health. Under it the office of state dairy commissioner is abolished, and his duties will be those of the chief food inspector, the present dairy commissioner becoming the chief inspector.

Everything that can come into use for human consumption, as food or drink, is included under the law. The inspection will even take in canned goods. Meat, fresh, salted, smoked and canned, are liable to inspection, as are all wines, beers and soft drinks, including mineral waters. Beers not up to a set standard will be unsalable under the law. Milk must come up to the set standards of purity and richness to be legally put on sale. Municipal water supplies are also liable to condemnation if impure.

THERE WERE OTHERS.

A venerable woman calmly puffing away at an old clay pipe was one of the sights, now much less frequent than formerly, in the Carthage, Kan., courthouse the other day. She had come in from some of the backwoods corners of Jasper county, where there are others of her kind. "From Tennessee! Why, sartinly," she replied to the local interviewer's query. "And from South Carolina to Tennessee when a little girl. You see, us girls learned to smoke the tobacco we raised, and the boys they chawed it, and there wasn't no objections from the old folks. When we come out to Missouri, along afore the war, our pipes come, too. Yes, I reckon I ain't the only old lady in Jasper county what smokes a pipe."

THREATEN MUTINY.

Turkish Officers Promised Prompt Settlement in Regard to Their Pay.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 31. A tumultuous demonstration was made in front of the Admiralty offices Tuesday by Commanders and noncommissioned Bashi Puzuks, which caused dismay among the occupants of the Yildiz Palace. The pay of these taking part in the demonstration is several months in arrears, but only a promise of prompt settlement prevented the carrying out of threats of further action. The pay of all the troops, with the exception of the guards, is similarly in arrears, but the officers are paid with fair regularity, because they furnish the grand weekly at the Selamlik, and dissatisfaction among them might result in serious consequences to Abdul Hamid.

FOR ST. LAWRENCE NAVIGATION.

Patent Issued in Canada for a Submerged Electric System.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—An important patent connected with the St. Lawrence navigation has been issued and submitted to Mr. Tarte, minister of public works, by whom it will be laid before the cabinet, says an Ottawa special to the Times. The patent is designed to do away with the lighthouses, buoys, and in fact, the entire paraphernalia for night navigation between Montreal and Quebec and substitute a submerged electric system. The main idea is to sink an electrical cable in the centre of the navigable channel, with power generated from a power house at Montreal, and series of colored lights at or above the water level of each side of the channel. The lights would be in the form of a different color to those on the shore. The lights will be supported by cork floats.

CITY FINANCES.

Special Subject of Mayor Boyle's Cart-Tail Address.

Mr. Brown Discourses the Police Commission, Especially Mr. Read.

The second edition of the Democratic cart-tail campaign was issued Wednesday evening, and like the first attracted large gatherings, at both places. There was this difference, that those who were present came to hear and not to take part. There was no noise, except laughter at good hits, and occasional applause. All listened attentively to what the speakers had to say, and then went away quietly.

The Newport Band furnished music for the occasion, and as before the start was made from the old city hall, the first meeting being in the First ward, on Bridge street, just below the No. 2 engine house, where was gathered a crowd that was more than equal to the ability of the speakers to make their words audible, though both did the best they could. Representative Murphy was in Providence and so was absent, and the dearth of good speakers in Newport was shown by the fact that no one took his place, leaving the talking to Messrs. P. J. Boyle and J. Stacy Brown, both of whom, however, were equal to the emergency and filled in the time allotted to each meeting in a satisfactory manner.

Again the question of home rule as applied to the method of appointment of the police commission was the main subject, but ex-Mayor Boyle presented some figures on the financial exhibit of the city, to give the taxpayers something to think of in relation to the proposed bond issues. There was less reference to the Daily News and less to Mayor Garrettson than at the first meeting, but this was fully made up by Mr. Brown's pointed references to Harwood E. Read and his love of salary, the other commissioners except as they formed a part of the board receiving no attention.

When the first meeting was closed the procession, accompanied by many of the audience, went to Equality square, where another large crowd gathered on West Broadway and the square and listened with equal attention. The speeches at the two places, though covering the same subjects, were different, so that those who heard the first were given something new in the second.

Ex-Mayor Boyle called attention to the law which allows the police commission to spend only $36,000 a year, and said that this is now all gone, with two months yet to come in this year. He suggested that if the city had $4,500 to spend extra on the police it be given to the policemen, who do the work. The commissioners show their ideas of economy by having each a telephone. The main issue is, however, the vital principle of self-government, which was taken from the citizens by the method of appointment of the commission. If the matter should be referred to the citizens, and they should vote to accept such a commission, thus giving away their rights, while he would claim that they had done wrong he would say no more.

He spoke of the present city debt being $800,000, to which it is proposed, if the taxpayers so vote, to add $100,000 for a high school, $18,000 for the buildings on the beach, and $15,000 for road improvements. While he believed in public schools as absolutely essential to American progress, he wanted to know more than the school committee had given out about their plans, if they have any plans. They have not taken the public into their confidence, and no voter can say that it will not be the same old story, asking for $100,000 for a building that would eventually cost $150,000.

Then there is the beach. The lease provided only for the erection of buildings to cost $15,000; yet the City Council has asked for the right to pay $18,000. This shows the idea of economy that the present Read-controlled City Council has. The road improvement is something that has long been asked for by the summer residents, the best friends of Newport.

Were these amounts voted the debt of Newport would aggregate nearly a million dollars, the interest on which at five per cent would be $50,000 a year. The state tax will be from $60,000 to $70,000 a year, making a total of about $120,000, or nearly one fourth of the yearly revenue of the city, to be taken out before any of the other running expenses can be touched. Already it is impossible to carry on the city's work with the present revenues, and this year there promises to be an overdraft of $100,000, to be provided for in some way.

Mr. Brown gave special attention to the police commission matter, claiming that it is unlawful, in that it takes from the citizens their rights of local self-government. He held that the decision of the court that a state commission was necessary to assure citizens of Pawtucket and other places security for life and prosperity in Newport was a libel on the fair name of the city, which had so long managed its own affairs; that if a police commission was unnecessary and undesirable for Providence, Pawtucket, Central Falls and Woonsocket it was equally undesirable for Newport.

He said that if a solid Democratic and anti-police commission delegation is sent from this city to the legislature this fall there are assurances that the representatives of the other cities will unite with the Newport delegation to secure, if not the repeal of the commission, an amendment to the act, giving the citizens of Newport a voice in their selection, either by direct vote or by vote of the City Council. The other cities do not want such a commission.

On the other hand, if the Republican delegation is returned, it will mean an endorsement of the police commission idea and the reappointment of Harwood E. Read for six years, to be the virtual ruler of Newport. Mr. Brown paid special attention to Mr. Read, asking who had seen him do any work or gain any livelihood in the past 20 years, except through politics. He is looking, the speaker said, for that thousand dollars a year for a term of six years, and that is what he is fighting so hard for in this campaign. Whenever there has been a salaried office to be attained there always one could find Mr. Read's head lobbing up, anxious for it, and that is what he is looking for in this campaign, for himself. Every time a working man goes to the tax collector and pays his tax he pays a part of that welcome salary of Harwood E. Read, and Mr. Read wants this to continue.

He spoke at some length also of the principles of home rule, as at the first meeting, and gave a strong endorsement to Mr. Boyle's candidacy for mayor, saying that while Mr. Garrettson is also in favor of home rule, he had been nominated by the Read clique in the Republican party, which is in favor of the police commission.

The loss in the building burned is estimated at $60,000, half of which is on contents. The fire is supposed to have started from an explosion.

Fire also destroyed the three-story brick cooperage shop of John Johnson, at 210 and 212 North Carpenter street, causing a loss of $30,000. Several persons living in cottages adjoining the shops were overcome by smoke, and were carried out by the police.

OF THE JUDICIAL POWER.

SECTION 1. The judicial power shall be vested in one supreme court, to consist of a chief justice and not less than two nor more than six other justices, and in such inferior courts as the general assembly may from time to time ordain and establish. CAREFUL CANVASS COMPLETED.

Net Total of 216 Names Stricken from the Voting Lists.

The final canvass of the ward lists for the coming election was finished by the board of aldermen at 6:30 last evening. Finding the afternoon session H. E. Read, Lewis Read and A. L. Gilman were present to see how the work was done, but there was no special interest and no excitement about the canvass, which proceeded slowly but surely to the finish.

The ward lists used were those prepared for the annual canvass October 9, with the possible personal property voters placed in the property list for the annual canvass removed to their proper place. The changes given below are all that were made in the canvasses of October 18 and 25, as well as those made yesterday. They are as follows:

Property Voters.

First ward 32 added, 60 stricken off; reduction, 28.

Second ward 25 added, 72 stricken off; reduction, 17.

Third ward 46 added, 38 stricken off; reduction, 7.

Fourth ward 31 added, 90 stricken off; reduction, 59.

Fifth ward 19 added, 42 stricken off; reduction, 7.

Total 153 added, 322 stricken off; reduction, 169.

Registry.

First ward 8 added, 6 stricken off or changed to taxpaying; addition, 2.

Second ward 6 added, 21 taken off; reduction, 15.

Third ward 5 added, 15 taken off; reduction, 10.

Fourth ward 1 added, 16 taken off; reduction, 12.

Fifth ward 10 added, 19 taken off; reduction, 9.

Total added, 33; taken off or changed to property, 77; reduction, 44.

Net total names stricken off, 216.

Some of these were names of dead men, some were duplicates that were discovered, where in changing from one ward to another the name had not previously been stricken off the original ward; some were men who had not paid their taxes, and some those who had taken up their residence elsewhere or who could not be found by the police.

The changes made in the Fifth ward list, after the careful inquiry made this year, justified the claims made that there were fewer dead men and duplicate names on the list of that ward than on any other.

While the board acted on its best judgment and the best evidence it could secure, it is likely that there are still the names of many who are dead on the list, as well as some duplicates; also, that some who may have the right to vote have had their names removed because the board could get no evidence to show that they had that right. More than the usual pains were taken, however, and the lists are accordingly cleaner than usual.

GARDENERS BEAT THE ARTILLERY OFFICERS.

The Gardeners and Newport Artillery officers rolled a match with large pins at the Artillery bowling alleys last evening, the Gardeners winning by a margin of 98 pins in a total score of 1802 to 1704. Colonel Bliss of the Artillery team made the highest individual score, 118 pins, with R. Gardner of the Gardeners' team a close second, with 116. Gardner was high roller of the evening, with a total of 110 pins, and Gray of the same team was next with 100. Bliss was high roller for his team with 591. The deed from Charles E. Ingersoll, executor of the estate of Sarah E. Ingersoll of Philadelphia, to Robert N. Carson, also of Philadelphia, of the Reef Point estate, has been filed at the city clerk's office. The consideration named is $180,000, and the estate comprises 2,314,000 square feet of land, with build ings thereon, situated on Reef Point and Annapolis court. The estate was purchased by the late Henry Ingersoll, in two parcels, from Antonia Yznaga del Valle, October 26, 1868, and from Francisco Acosta and wife, May 20, 1870.

DECREASE IN TARDINESS.

Superintendent of Public Schools Lull says that his efforts to secure greater promptness in school attendance have met with very gratifying success. Though the time has been short, and the number of pupils has considerably increased, the tardiness has decreased more than 50 per cent, even with greater strictness on the part of the teachers in marking tardy cases. A still greater reduction is looked for when parents begin to more fully realize how important it is to have their children at school when school begins.

Many parents are thoughtless in this respect, and do not hesitate to send the book bags on errands so late that they cannot avoid being tardy. Among the scholars a good spirit to be prompt has been created, and generally when pupils are tardy it can be set down that they have been detained at home for some reason, avoidable in many cases and unavoidable in many others. A reduction of over one half of the cases of tardiness is, however, a very good showing.

MARRIED IN KAY CHAPEL.

Wedding of Thomas J. Weaver and Miss Susan Katherine Draper.

The marriage of Miss Susan Katherine Draper, youngest daughter of Mrs. George H. Draper, to Mr. Thomas Crapo Weaver of Fall River, took place last evening at Kay Chapel and was attended by a large number of the friends of the bride and groom in this city, in addition to a number from Fall River, Taunton, Boston and other places.

There were no decorations in the chapel, the ceremony being that prescribed for the Protestant Episcopal Church, which was performed by Rev. Charles G. Gillat, D. D., Mr. Arcesius Hazard Swain singing at the close "O Fair, O Sweet, O Holy." The bride was escorted to the altar and given away by her brother, Mr. G. Harry Draper, and was preceded up the aisle by her nephew, Master Henry Stevens Wheeler as page and by Messrs. Augustus S. Denison of this city and Leontine Lincoln of Fall River as ushers.

The bride wore a gown of white Liberty satin, trimmed with chiffon and a white tulle veil caught with gardenias, and carried in her hand a prayer book. The page wore a suit of white serge. The ushers and best man, Mr. George S. Hammett of Taunton, were boutonnieres of lilies of the valley.

A reception was held, following the ceremony, at the residence of the bride's mother on Bell street, where many guests were present to offer congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver left during the evening on the Fall River line boat, and after a wedding trip through New York state will go to Fall River, where they will make their home.

THE POLICE COMMISSION THE ISSUE.

To the Editor of The News:

Dear Sir: As this is to be a gentleman's campaign, I trust you will open your columns to a gentlemanly discussion of the questions at issue.

That the police commission is the prime issue in this campaign, no sensible man can doubt. Each of the two great parties has nominated four gentlemen for election to the General Assembly. The candidates of one party stand pledged to maintain the police commission; the other party openly denounces the commission, and its candidates are pledged to work for the repeal of the act which brought the commission into being. The line is clearly drawn and the voter must indeed be thick who cannot vote his mind on the police commission question at the polls on election day.

If the Republican party, and the Daily News, want a tribunician, or three tribunes, well and good. Let them be elected by the people of Newport, and let them be all Republicans, if the people so desire; but to have a commission sent down upon us by a vote in the northern part of the state is an insult to our manhood, and one which should be resented by every man, woman and child in our city who have a spark of American independence left to light their way.

We are not capable of running our police department, we cannot govern ourselves; that is what they tell us in the making of this commission, that is the old saying of the tyrant to his captive. That is what England said to the colony of Massachusetts, when she ordered that prisoners in the colony should be sent to England for trial; that is what Spain said to Cuba, when she was sending her authorities across the ocean to extortionate the Cuban people, and that is what we are saying today to the conquered people of the Philippine islands.

Are we, the people of Newport, a conquered city in one of the original 13 states of this great and free republic, to be treated as a conquered province, as a people who are not fit to be trusted with the ballot? This is not Republicanism; this is not the platform of the great Republican party, whose very corner stone is human liberty, and that our corner stone was laid in the mortar of a nation's blood. No, sir! I say this feature of government by commissions is repugnant, impertinent, pure and simple. It is the same kind of political solecism which brought destruction to the democracies of ancient Greece, and which bowed the neck of a republican Rome for the heavy yoke of empire, tyranny and oppression.

The concentrating of all the armed forces of a state under one head is the first step towards the annihilation of a people's freedom; and I say to my fellow citizens of all parties, to so bow your ballot, while you have it, that your ballot may be preserved.

Respectfully yours,

William J. Lynch.

PRESENTED WITH A RING.

Mr. Walcott Completes His Service with the Adams Express.

Mr. William H. Walcott, the newly-appointed deputy collector of customs, completed his service with the Adams Express Company at the close of business yesterday afternoon. When he was about to leave the office the employes, including the cashier, clerks and drivers,

WILLIAM H. WALCOTT,
Newly Appointed Deputy Collector of Customs

some of whom have been with him for years, entered and one of their number presented to Mr. Walcott a handsome gold ring set with an emerald and two diamonds, as a token of the esteem in which they held the retiring manager. Mr. Walcott was completely taken by surprise and could scarcely express the feelings of appreciation with which he accepted the gift. Mr. Walcott will assume the duties of his new position in a few days, when he has become thoroughly acquainted with the routine of the office.

A MOONLIGHT EXCURSION BY TRAIN.

The excursion of Newport Conclave, Knights of Sherwood Forest, to Providence last night promised to be a big affair. The weather was ideal, and when the Conclave, in full uniform, headed by the Newport Military Band, started to march to the Providence depot there were many on the street, evidently prepared to accompany them. But man proposes, and many other things help to make his proposals as naught; and so it was last night. The City of Newport broke her shaft on the way to Newport and had to be towed here by tug Gaspee, arriving about 7 o'clock, or nearly an hour late.

It was then arranged to go to Providence on the railroad and return on the other steamer, that was to come to Newport to replace the Newport on the line. A special train was arranged to go as far as Fall River, and special cars to connect for Providence, and the line of march was taken up for the railroad depot. It was 8:25 before the train left the depot. Most of those who were going up simply for the excursion went home, as the train would reach Providence too late to go to a theatre or see much of the parade or of one's friends there.

The Opportunities For Money Making

AS PRESENTED BY

AN INVESTMENT IN OIL

Are engaging the attention of discriminative investors throughout the world. Greater gains can be made than by any other form of investment. Fortunes have been made—others will be. Success depends on BOTH the competency and honesty of a company's officials. Due care in selection of stock should make you a participator in the profits of the future. The consideration of prudent investors is called to the following points illustrative of the safety of an investment in the shares of the

SENTINEL OIL COMPANY

Is owner $1 acres of "proven oil land" in the Famous Kern River Oil District of California—the greatest oil field in the world.

It is under the same direct management as the Sterling and Sovereign Oil Companies. H. H. Blood and William Ellery have been identified with more successes than any other operators in California—a true test of competency.

It is an opportunity to become associated with practical oil operators in the development of their own property, and at a time when stock can be obtained at "field rock" prices.

A treasury with 775,000 shares therein from capitalization of 1,000,000 gives proof that it is not a "promoter's stock scheme."

There will be an absolute market at profitable prices for all oil that can be produced, insuring profit on investment.

First well will be commenced at once—every well will add to value of stock. The present price of stock is for a limited number of shares. I shall be pleased to give more definite information regarding the superiority of this oil offering to those who may wish for it. The time is investigate and the time to buy is NOW. It is not this offering that will benefit you—but the taking advantage of it. Comprehensive illustrated literature or the asking.

15c. per Share
